

A GREAT CUBAN VICTORY

Defeat a Superior Spanish Force Under Col. Aguilar.

CAPTURE MUNITIONS OF WAR

The Spaniards Retreat, Leaving Their Wounded Upon the Field. Commissioner Calhoun's First Official Report On the Way to Washington.

Havana, via Key West, May 16.—The Spanish forces, Col. Aguilar, numbering 1,500 men, met yesterday, near Guines, the combined Cuban forces of Gen. Cardenas and Gen. Rodriguez. The insurgents numbered 1,200, nearly all cavalry. After an engagement which lasted several hours, Col. Aguilar retired to Guines with heavy losses. His defeat was so marked that his soldiers threw away many of their guns, while the insurgents captured, as well as nearly all the horses of the Spanish cavalry. The amount of ammunition and other supplies captured by the Cubans makes this victory worth as much to the Cuban cause as an expedition landed from the United States. The Spaniards left their wounded also on the field, and they were cared for by a Cuban physician.

After the Spaniards abandoned the field word was sent to Col. Aguilar by Gen. Rodriguez and Cardenas to send for his wounded soldiers. He did so in the evening, and ninety-eight Spanish soldiers were carried to Guines on stretchers by a detachment sent for that purpose by Aguilar, which was escorted by 100 insurgents under command of a captain until they reached the outskirts of the town.

Though the Spaniards do not officially admit that they have met this reverse, it is said at the palace in Havana that Col. Aguilar fell into a trap because another Spanish column, which was to reinforce him, failed to do so.

In the same telegram which carries this dispatch to Key West, others relating to this affair are sent there to be called to Madrid. Cautious comments are made by the Spanish correspondents on the battle near Guines, in view of the report of the pacification of Havana province, and all the western part of the island.

The first report in extent sent to President McKinley by Mr. Calhoun, with regard to the situation, goes also by the same steamer, and will be in Washington on Tuesday.

THE BATTLE OF MANZANILLO.

More Disastrous to the Spanish Than Any of the War.

Havana, May 15, via Key West, May 16.—The most important battle of the Cuban war is believed to be the one fought last week near Manzanillo, Santiago de Cuba province, and of which authentic news is just received.

Col. Ruiz was the commander of the Spaniards, who numbered 2,000 men. The Cubans were led by Gen. Rabi and Carlos Garcia, son of Gen. Calixto Garcia.

The battle was fought two miles from the town of Manzanillo, and after a whole day's fighting the Spaniards were unable to retire by land to Manzanillo and had to embark on the steamer Reinados Angeles, making their escape by sea. Only 1,300 soldiers were able to catch the steamer under the fire of the insurgents. The rest of the column of Col. Ruiz was killed, wounded or captured.

The sensation produced by this news in Havana is very great.

All the inhabitants of Cano, Wajay and other small towns in the Havana province have been ordered by Wajay to abandon their homes and concentrate in Marietas, a Havana suburb. They are starting to death there. San Marcos, Lajas, Siete, Mata, and several other towns of Havana province have been burned by the Spanish troops under orders of the captain general.

DE LOME HAS HIS HOPES.

He Cables to His Government About the Situation Here.

London, May 16.—A dispatch to the Standard from Madrid says it is understood that Senor de Lome, the Spanish minister to the United States, has cabled to the government that he still hopes that the coming message of President McKinley to Congress on the Cuban situation will not alter the cordial relations between Spain and the United States, because Spain has already stated that she is disposed to make all the concessions that are compatible with respect to her rights of sovereignty.

Spain, it is added, is disposed to allow the United States to relieve the distressed Americans in Cuba, under the supervision of the colonial authorities.

TWO DISASTERS ON THE SEA

Brigantine Croisiene and Steamer Arcadia Run Ashore.

Narrow Escape of Crews and Passengers From Death—Heroism of Four Seamen.

St. John's, N. B., May 16.—Two marine disasters have occurred on the south coast of Newfoundland within the past thirty-six hours.

Yesterday morning, in a dense fog, the French brigantine Croisiene, from Bayonne for St. Pierre, went ashore near Lamaline, twenty miles from her destination. A heavy sea was running at the time and her spars came tumbling to the deck, breaking one man's arm and seriously injuring two others.

The crew launched their boats and the twenty-seven men crowded into them, being unable to take any provisions, owing to the vessel being filled with water, and for the whole day and night and until noon today they rowed and drifted about the ocean, the fog being so thick that nothing was visible. Then they heard the St. Pierre whistle and contrived to enter that port. They were worn out and many of them were badly frostbitten, but no lives were lost.

Another wreck occurred this morning at Cape Ray, 150 miles west of Lamaline. The same fog prevailed there and the German steamer Arcadia, grain laden, from Montreal for England, crashed into a shelling rock and lies almost a total wreck. Her forehold is full of water and her bottom was probably pierced by the jagged rocks on which she lies. Her fifty men and twenty-five passengers crowded on the foredeck nearly all several unsuccessful attempts to reach land.

The condition of the ship's company was becoming hourly more precarious as she settled down, but eventually four men swam ashore with lines, a hawser was fixed, and all the people were safely transported. They walked to Cape Ray Lighthouse, where they were made comfortable, and are now awaiting passage here.

The crew remained by the ship and tonight, the men having slaked, returned aboard, hoping by throwing overboard a portion of the cargo, to float the ship if not too badly injured.

A Contractor Fatally Stabbed.
Mount Vernon, N. Y., May 16.—While engaged in a fight over the affections of Caroline Anderson, an attractive colored woman, Scotland Jordan, a colored contractor, was this morning nearly stabbed to death. His assailant, Charles Anderson, the woman's husband, is under arrest for the crime. Jordan will probably die.

GROWN GREAT IN VICTORY

The Porte Refuses to Declare an Armistice.

HOSTILITIES WILL CONTINUE

Demand the Annexation of Thessaly and a Heavy Indemnity and Says if These Terms Are Not Accepted It Will Continue to Advance on Athens.

Constantinople, May 16.—The Porte yesterday replied officially to the collective note of the powers requesting that an armistice be declared. In its reply the Porte declares that it will not cease hostilities before its own conditions are accepted. These are the annexation of Thessaly, the payment by Greece of an indemnity of 10,000,000 pounds Turkish and the abolition of the capitulations for Greek subjects in the Turkish empire.

The Porte proposes that plenipotentiaries shall meet at Pharsala to discuss terms of peace. It affirms that if its conditions are not accepted the Ottoman army will continue its advance on Athens. After the reply had been received the representatives of the powers held a meeting to consider it. They intend to endeavor to urge the Sultan to personally modify the conditions in the direction of placing the payment of the indemnity under European control, though the strength of the military party at Constantinople is again given as a reason for his majesty not receding from the high terms imposed by the Porte.

A RUSSIAN SCHEME.

Greece to Be Deprived of the Control of Her Finances.

London, May 16.—The solution which is likely to be adopted of the question of the indemnity to be paid by Greece to Turkey is a Russian scheme that has been framed since the outbreak of the war, when it was foreseen that Turkey would be the victor and would demand an indemnity that Greece would be unable to immediately pay.

The powers are agreed to the extent of thinking that a prolonged Turkish occupation of Thessaly would raise grave troubles. The only solution of the question will be a European commission to administer the finances of Greece until the indemnity is completely paid. Europe will therefore make an advance to Greece that will permit of prompt payment to Turkey, which country is greatly in need of money.

Telegrams from the European capitals confirm the foregoing.

Diplomats in Rome speak of the creation of a control and guarantee of the Greek debt similar to the control and guarantee of the Ottoman debt. It is reported in London that the control will embrace the interest of Greece's creditors.

Paris, May 16.—A dispatch to the Figaro from St. Petersburg predicts that the powers will adopt Russia's scheme of advancing money to Greece to enable her to meet the demands that Turkey will make upon her for the expenses of the war.

The writer adds that he has absolute authority for stating that if the angry Greeks molest or expel King George and his family from Greece, then Russia, followed by the other powers, will abandon Greece to anarchy, which will render her existence as an independent state problematical.

GREEK ARMY DEMORALIZED.

The Pitiful Condition of the Troops at Domokos.

London, May 16.—A dispatch from Pharsala, dated Friday afternoon, says that deserters who have arrived there from the Greek camp describe the condition of the Greek army as bordering on a panic. They say that the troops are half-starved, their daily rations being only a loaf of bread. They are without tents and are compelled to sleep in the rain. They declare that since the battle of Pharsala there have been nearly 4,000 desertions from the Greek ranks. This is probably an exaggeration, but it seems that all discipline is gone.

The soldiers do not salute the crown prince, their commander-in-chief, and threaten their own officers.

A dispatch from Larissa, dated Saturday, says that Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, is rapidly completing his plans for the capture of Domokos, the position now occupied by the main Greek army. Many battalions of re-enforcements have arrived.

THE GREEKS FIGHT WELL.

Their Gallant Conduct in the Attack on Imaret Heights.

London, May 16.—The Times correspondent who was with the Greeks in Pharsala, in a dispatch dated Imaret Heights, May 14, describes the gallantry of the Greeks in the battle on Thursday. They swarmed up the mountain side, exposed to a fierce fire from the Turkish entrenchments above, proving themselves fine troops when well led. The fighting was stopped by dark, but was renewed at dawn. The Turks defended their position vigorously, and there was a hot musketry fire.

As the sky became clear the Greek artillery opened fire. Turkish re-enforcements were brought up, and there was a hot battle.
